

Dear colleagues,

SITCPLA is fully committed to protect and promote all workers rights. Womens rights in Spain are protected by the "ley de igualdad". Based on the legal coverage provided by this law, we want to launch a nation wide campaign. The idea is to collect signatures from all workers to support our female cabin crew in their claim to decide weather to wear trousers or skirts and make-up. Companies like Air Lingus have already announced that they will drop their mandatory make-up policies and will allow trousers in their new uniform policies. We at SICTPLA celebrate decisions like this one taken by irish companies, following the steps of others such as Virgin Atlantic.

We expect Ryanair to pick up the pace of times and fullfil our female cabin crew desires on equal rights, not just by issuing womens day PA's but by implementing concrete policies.
